No Big Crowd Drumup This Early in Drive

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Some advisers to Vice President Humphrey are urging abandonment until fall of any effort to drum up big campaign crowds.

And some lackluster performances during a seven-day Western trip have strengthened their argument.

These advisers say, in private conversations, that it takes too much effort at this stage of the campaign to bring out the kind of crowds considered large enough to make a good impression.

They feel Humphrey should concentrate now on discussing issues and winning national convention delegates.

In Denver last Wednesday and again in Cleveland Monday and Tuesday, efforts by local Democratic leaders to stir up popular enthusiasm for Humphrey's visit were conspicuously unsuccessful.

In both places, despite publicity buildups, fewer than 500 persons greeted Humphrey at the airports, and other crowds along his way were even smaller.

In Cleveland, a visit by Humphrey to anti-poverty projects wound up half an hour ahead of schedule, something most unusual for Humphrey, largely because of the small crowds.

Democratic leaders in the predominantly Democratic city expressed concern about the lack of enthusiasm, which was also seen later in the day when party workers started drifting away from a reception even while Humphrey was still speaking.

Former Rep. John K. Gilligan, the Democratic senatorial nominee who accompanied Humphrey on his rounds, told reporters he feared the state might go Republican this November unless Democrats made visible their differences with Richard M. Nixon, whom he called the likely Republican presidential nominee.

Humphrey, however, was in his usual good spirits as he responded to a series of antagonistic questions from members of the City Club after he had outlined his program for revitalizing American cities.

In response to a question about whether he would support Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy if the Minnesota senator defeated him for the party's presidential nomination, he replied "I am a Democrat and I will support the nominee of my party." He added not everyone had taken such a stand.

When asked about the possibility of debating McCarthy before the Democratic National Convention, he said with a laugh that while "I may have to accept him . . . I really have too much affection for him" to want to defeat him in a debate. "I'm saving my ammunition for Richard Nixon."

Didn't Secede

Kentucky and Missouri did not secede from the Union. This fact accounts for the 13 stars in the Confederate flag although there were only 11 Confederate States.

Reagan Says Convention Will Decide

By BILL STALL
Associated Press Writer
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan says his name will go before the Republican National Convention next month and "at that time I can be considered a candidate by delegates so inclined."

Reagan says his comments last week were misinterpreted when he said he might abandon his favorite son presidential role and release his 86 California votes if "the unforeseen happened" and it appeared someone else had the nomination sewed up before the convention.

"I believe it is an open convention," he told a news conference Tuesday. "I don't believe it is tied up. I intend to be placed in nomination by the California delegation and if at that time the convention wishes to consider me a candidate, the convention can do so."

Reagan's remarks came after a reporter asked his current situation in view of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon's success in piling up delegate commitments.

During the news conference, Reagan's office released the text of a telegram the Republican chief executive sent last week to Henry A. Bubb of Topeka, Kan., chairman of the Citizens for Reagan National Information Center.

Bubb asked Reagan to restate his position, adding: "Please give the hundreds of thousands of Republicans now supporting your candidacy the opportunity to keep the convention open. We believe the nomination will be yours unless you turn aside our efforts."

Reagan said, "My name will be placed in nomination. Obviously, at that time I can be considered a candidate by delegates so inclined."

"I am well aware of and greatly honored by the activities in my behalf," he said, but added, "it would be impossible for me to present myself as a candidate prior to the convention."

Reagan commented at length for the first time on a petition drive to force an election this fall to recall him. Organizers claim they have 650,000 of the 780,414 signatures needed to force a recall election, with the rest of July to gather more names.

Reagan called the movement a politically motivated attempt to embarrass him. He said it was a dangerous precedent because it was based on philosophical disagreement and not any alleged misconduct in office. "I'll take my chances on what the people say," he added.

Pine Bluff Reports Shortage

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Mayor Austin T. Franks has turned a report of a shortage of more than $36,000 in Pine Bluff's occupational licenses fund over to City Atty. George N. Holmes.

The shortage was reported in a special audit of the city collector's office. Franks said the audit was conducted by the Glenn A. Railsback Co., an accounting firm.

The shortage was first discovered during the regular annual audit of city books last May. Holmes said he would turn the matter over to his brother, Prosecutor Joe Holmes of Pine Bluff, if criminal charges needed to be filed.

John Pointer Jr. was suspended May 10 as city collector and replaced 10 days later by the city council with Orville C. Uinn. Franks appointed Pointer to the office in 1965.

Holmes said the collector's position is bonded for $25,000, and said the special audit would be turned over to the city's bonding company.

3 Arkansans Sentenced to Death

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Four men, including three Arkansans, were sentenced to death Tuesday after being convicted in Jefferson Criminal Court here of willful murder.

Attorneys for the men said they would seek a new trial because of what they said was the amount of inadmissible evidence in the trial. The attorneys said most of this was in the form of hearsay evidence.

The men were convicted of fatally shooting Louisville Patrolman William F. Meyer Sr. following a holdup last Sept. 1. They also received life sentences in connection with the holdup.

Convicted in the case were Carl Sims Pankey, 29, Marmaduke; Daniel Spears, 31, Forrest City; Verser Joseph Swait, 27, Cherry Valley (Cross County); and Thomas Leonard Pope, 45, Springfield, Ill.

Rough Rider to Las Vegas for Reunion

LAS VEGAS, N. M. (AP) — One of the last three living members of Teddy Roosevelt's famed Rough Riders arrives today in Las Vegas by bus for the 69th annual Rough Riders reunion.

Jesse Langdon, 87, of East Rockaway, N. Y., will be the star of a parade through the center of town and the honored guest at a luncheon.

Two years ago, Langdon drove his sports car from New York to the celebration honoring the famous cavalry group.

Theodore Roosevelt himself attended the group's first reunion in Las Vegas in 1899—a year after he led the Rough Riders in the charge up San Juan Hill in Cuba during the Spanish-American War and two years before he became president.

5 Diplomatic Moves Brought About Release

By ENDRE MARTON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Five diplomatic moves preceded the release of an American plane held on a Soviet island for more than 48 hours after it was forced to land by MIG fighters while flying troops to Vietnam.

Two of the five moves were informal, but they involved top-level men on both sides. The three others concerned formal diplomatic representation, on a somewhat lower level.

Official Washington was sweltering in near-100-degree heat when the first report of the incident reached the Pentagon and the State Department's Operations Centers at about 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Defense Secretary Clark Clifford were immediately notified. So was Walt W. Rostow, President Johnson's foreign policy adviser.

Half an hour later when another message confirmed the incident and gave more details about how the DC8 commercial aircraft, chartered by the Military Airlift Command, strayed off course and was forced by MIGs to land on Iturup Island in the Pacific Kuriles Chain, Rusk made the first move: He called Anatole Dobrynin, the Soviet ambassador.

Dobrynin did not know about the incident. Rusk explained that if the plane did violate Soviet air space, it was unintentional and that the United States hoped the plane and the 231 people aboard would be released quickly.

Simultaneously, a message was sent to the U.S. Embassy in Moscow instructing Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson to raise the matter with the Soviet foreign minister.

SHOWBEAT

By DICK KLEINER

NEA Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Gayle Hunnicutt massaged Michael Sarrazin's chest and talked dreamily about murder.

They were shooting a scene for Universal's new mod horror movie, "Wyllie." This may be the first attempt to combine the old, traditional horror film with the hippie milieu, and it sounds like a combination which should work. After all, some of the hippies are pretty horrible to start with.

The chief vehicle of the horror in "Wyllie" is our old friend, the cat. You'll see just how far a cat will go for money—especially a cat that comes from a broken home. "It's an animal story," says that skillful horror writer, Joseph Stefano, who did the script. "The whole point is to show that we humans shouldn't behave like animals—because they're so much better at it than we are."

Gayle Hunnicutt continued to rub away on Michael Sarrazin's bare chest, and I don't know how Mike could stand it. Gayle is a sexy thing even when her hands are still, but when they're moving along a man's unclad chest it must be tough to take lying down.

After the scene, Gayle and her two Yorkshire terriers—Heathcliff and Kathy—talked about cats. Actually, Gayle did most of the talking; the dogs just growled a little.

"I've always liked cats," she said. "I identify with them. I think all women do. There's something so feminine about a cat—women would like to have their grace."

It seems to me that Gayle has catlike grace as it is. Any more grace and she'd begin lapping her milk.

While the cat angle is the one most people are talking about in connection with "Wyllie," the film's producers and director emphasize there is more to their picture than just a bunch of crazy, mixed-up cats.

"Twenty years from now," says director David Lowell Rich, "I hope this film will be remembered as the definitive study of a young man of the late '60s."

"A picture is like an iceberg," says co-producer Bernard Schwartz. "There is the surface and there is so much more beneath the surface. The surface of our picture is the cats—but the real meaning is much bigger and much more significant."

"Wyllie" got started on the wrong paw. The first director left the picture—the official reason was a bad back, but unofficially the change is ascribed to temperament—and Rich was brought in to take over. Since he saw the picture differently, he was allowed to reshoot everything.

"It's tough moving in like this," Rich says. "But everyone was very nice about it. I had different ideas about the characters than my predecessor, and the actors went along with my new ideas. And the producers, even though it added to the cost, let me start all over."

Later on in the scene—after Gayle finished her exotic massage—a cat was supposed to leap onto Mike's well-rubbed chest. It was a tricky business—cats are not the easiest animal to deal with.

"They're very hard to work with," Rich said. "What you have to do is outsmart them. You don't plan any long scenes, just short ones with a simple thing for them to do."

It worked. The cat landed smack on target. You might even say it was a bull's-eye, but why mix animals?

Huge Church

The nave of St. Peter's world's largest church, stretches an eighth of a mile and 80,000 people crowd into the church for special events, such as a canonization.

Dear Helen:
I want to clear my conscience of a wrong thing. Here's my story:

Last summer I worked as cashier in a restaurant owned by friends. One evening I looked suspicious from some reason and the owner thought I was stealing money, so I was told by another employee. I wrote a letter explaining my innocence, and stayed on the payroll. Last week, I don't know what possessed me, but I took $5.00 from the till. I haven't slept for several nights because of this. I think the owners know I took it. I need the job, and I like working for them. Please tell me how I can return the money and not be considered a — COMMON THIEF.

Dear C. F.:

Women Were Barred

Women were barred from the first Olympic games in ancient Greece, not only as participants but also as spectators, because the athletes competed in the nude, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

YOU SEE

sweep the girls off their feet? Do you proclaim to one and all that you remember what it is to be young but shoddily insist that you never behaved as oddly as young people today do?

Are you becoming suspicious of new joys and more comfortable with old boredom? Do you think that the price of nearly everything has risen beyond all reason and suspect that 199,999,999 of you: fellow Americans—plus nine-tenths of the population of the rest of the globe—are engaged in a gigantic conspiracy to rob you blind?

Are you depressed now and then by the feeling that you're losing touch with things—that either the world has gone crazy or you have?

Well, that's the test. Now for the score.

If you answered "yes" to each question, relax. You're as normal as you can expect to be in a mixed-up time—as normal as a fly on a blueberry.

But if you answered "no" to each question—kid, you're in trouble. You're out of this world, and don't know what's going on. You're adrift in your own dream and had better pick up your oars and row your way back to reality.

Television and Radio

By DICK CAVETT

Editor's Note—He had been heard—a lot—as the anonymous voice in television commercials and we had seen him occasionally on variety shows and on the late evening talk sessions. But Dick Cavett, with the understated wit and the gentle manner, emerged as a new comedy star in the most unlikely place: a morning show which ABC patterned after the late evening shows. Here he tells what he's learned about people who watch television by daylight.

NEW YORK (AP) — Housewives, they told me at the very beginning, would be my audience.

I got the mental picture of a woman in front of the set with curlers in her hair and a hot iron in her hand. Since then I've gotten a different picture in mind after reading my mail, which, after all, is my only idea of who's really out there.

It's a housewife, all right. Mostly. But I'm surprised to find that an accurate portrait of my audience would be more of a college. You'll have to put in college and high school students on vacation, a factory worker or cab driver on the night shift, a Sardi's headwaiter, Las Vegas blackjack dealer, and a go-go dancer with no place to go-go after her night's labors.

I'm very pleased to learn, as I often do, that I have many viewers among entertainers—mainly because I'm coming on when they're coming in. A guy from Duke Ellington's band told me that when they got off work in Vegas, I was their late show.

(I also received one letter from a lady in Toledo saying my voice tranquilizes her cat.)

I do appreciate the many letters telling me I've won in a tough decision between me and the dusting. To those households where I have won out over domestic hygiene, sorry, husbands.

I do feel that when we try to do something of a serious, important nature on the show, there is an intelligent woman at home who's interested. I'm glad to say my mail tells me she's concerned and involved in such things.

When lawyer Louis Nizer was my guest we were deep in the question of the war in Vietnam. There were frantic signals to bring the discussion to an end and bring on another guest. I said to the audience something like, "If you're bored, please turn to another program."

An enormous amount of mail came in afterward saying, "Don't let them discourage you. It's the first time we haven't been treated as stupid in daytime television."

Cynthia Lowry is on vacation

Anyone can cash his aces and kings. Most players can do all right with queens and jacks but it takes a really fine player to make use of an apparently worthless six or seven spot.

As anyone who looks at all the cards can see, South can make six no-trump by two routes. One is to cash his minor suit cards and throw West in with the heart to force his lead of a spade. The other is to duck one spade and wind up squeezing West.

In the actual play South won the first heart with dummy's queen and ran off four diamond tricks. East followed suit while West had to make two discards. West could see that he was going to have to discard two spades sooner or later and decided to do so right away in order to give the impression that he was just getting rid of trash.

South continued by playing three rounds of clubs. East followed with the three, nine and ten and hung on to the seven spot. Then South led a heart to his king and another one back to dummy's ace. East had to discard and let the deuce of spades go.

This would have given South an overtrick if he held both ace and king of spades but was essential against South's actual holding. If East had chucked his little old seven of clubs South would have been able to throw West in with the heart and make his contract in perfect safety.

When the seven of clubs failed to appear South was in a real quandary. Who held it? Finally South worked things out to his own satisfaction. West held it and had carefully blanked his king of spades early in the play. Meanwhile East was holding on to the jack-ten-nine of spades. South played his ace of spades and still will hardly believe that West didn't drop the king!

your HOME had an INSURANCE checkup?

Today, it would take a bundle of greenbacks to replace a house or part of one destroyed by fire, windstorm or explosion. Every year the cost goes up.

Just as you check your health periodically, it's good management to check the replacement value of your home against your insurance. We can be useful.

Air Force Base prior to today's swearing-in ceremonies and was whisked by helicopter to a presidential welcome unusual even for top ranking military men.

He and his blonde wife were met by President and Mrs. Johnson at the White House where they spent the night.

Westmoreland saluted the President and shook hands with Mrs. Johnson. His wife exchanged kisses with both Johnsons, mixing celebrations with serious diplomacy South of the Border.

With some 40 Latin American ambassadors and their ladies in tow, Johnson flies to San Antonio, Texas, today for an elaborate Independence Day celebration at HemisFair, the South's largest fair.

Westmoreland also said that the enemy had been "progressively weakened over the past several months" while allied forces have become stronger.

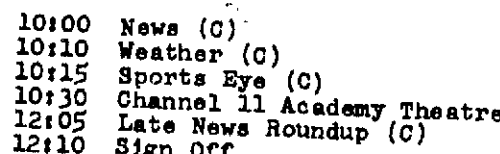

He said the enemy will suffer tremendous losses if any attempt is made to stage a "resurgence" aimed at capturing world attention during Paris peace talks.

Westmoreland took over U.S. command in Vietnam in July 1964 from Gen. Paul D. Harkins. There were 16,500 U.S. troops in the country then. The force has grown to more than 510,000 but without Westmoreland achieving the clear victory he had hoped for.

Succeeding Westmoreland as Vietnam commander was Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, his senior deputy and an expert in developing South Vietnamese forces.

A native of Spartanburg, S.C., Westmoreland graduated from West Point in 1932 and rose quickly through the officer ranks. He saw World War II duty in North Africa, Sicily, France and Germany and made full colonel at 30.

He led a paratroop regiment in Korea and at 42 became the youngest major general in the Army.

LBJ Going Latin Over Holiday

By FRANK CORMIER

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's long July 4th holiday will have a strong Latin flavor, mixing celebrations with serious diplomacy South of the Border.

With some 40 Latin American ambassadors and their ladies in nio Tex. today for an elaborate

Independence Day celebration

at HemisFair, the South's west-most fair.

The Latin nations are major participants in the exposition.

Johnson plans called for joining the ambassadors in both ceremonial and social activities associated with the fair before nightfall. On Thursday he will be the main speaker at a flag raising ceremony on the Hemis-fair grounds.

Then, on Friday, he will enertain Bolivia's President Rene

Barrientos Ortuño at the LBJ ranch near Johnson City, 70 miles north of San Antonio, Barrientos, who once attended a

Marichal Well on Way to 30 Wins

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Juan Marichal apparently has nothing to fear from the rest of the National League in his quest for a 30-game season. It's his injury incidence he has to worry about.

Marichal, whose career has been hampered only by a series of injuries, breezed to his 15th victory against three defeats Tuesday night, pitching a five-hitter as San Francisco defeated Atlanta 5-0.

The triumph gave Marichal a victory over every team in the league, made him the winningest pitcher in the major leagues and placed him at the halfway mark in his effort to become the first 30-game winner since Dizzy Dean in 1934.

In other games, St. Louis defeated Los Angeles 5-3, Houston blanked Cincinnati 2-0, Pittsburgh edged New York 2-1 and Chicago defeated Philadelphia 5-3.

In the American League, Detroit trimmed California 3-1, Boston nipped Oakland 4-3 and Minnesota crushed Cleveland 6-0. Rain washed out New York at Washington and Chicago at Baltimore.

For Marichal, a four-time 20-game winner, this is the earliest he's ever won his 15th. Previously, the earliest he reached this point was July 15, 1966.

But in that season, as in all but one, 1963, the 29-year-old right-hander lost some pitching time because of injuries.

The victory over the Braves was his first against them since Sept. 26, 1966. Willie Mays provided much of the support, rapping three straight hits, including a run-scoring single and a bunt single that set up another run.

Mike Shannon's run-scoring single in the eighth inning snapped a 3-3 tie and sparked the Cardinals past Los Angeles. Larry Jaster had a one-hit shut-out until the Dodgers erupted for three runs in the seventh, two on Jim Lefebvre's triple.

Denny Lemaster limited Cincinnati to four hits in bringing only two hits, but they were aided by two wild pitches by Gerry Arigo and two errors by Tommy Helms.

Pittsburgh edged New York on Bud Harrelson's two-out error in the ninth inning. Donn Clendenon scored from third when Harrelson lost Manny Mota's grounder.

Pitcher Ferguson Jenkins doubled in two runs in the eighth inning, then survived a ninth-inning rally by Philadelphia. John Briggs socked a two-run homer for the Phillies in the ninth. In the first inning the Cubs scored two unearned runs with the help of an error by Briggs.

Bobcaw Riding Club Rodeo Is July 6

The Bobcaw Riding Club will hold a rodeo on Saturday, July 6 in the Arena starting at 8 o'clock.

There will be bullriding, speed racing, barrel racing, wild cow scramble, pee-wee bull riding and other events, plus musical entertainment. The admission is only 25 and 50 cents.

The Bobcaw PTA will have charge of the concession stand and will serve sandwiches, cold drinks, snacks, pie and cake. Everyone is invited.

Perry's Boys Play Tonight and July 4

Perry's Truck Stop Independent baseball team goes after its 8th victory in a row tonight when it takes on Bradley at 8 o'clock at Legion Field.

Wayne Johnson or Wayne Lowe will probably hurl. Each has a 2-0 record.

On July 4 at 2 p.m., on the local Legion field the Perry boys will meet DeKalb, Texas. Buddy Jordan will probably hurl. He has three won record against a single loss.

The leading hitters thus far are Jim Jordan with .570 average; Wayne Lowe a .410; Gaylord Solomon and Wayne Johnson .403; Bill Lawrence .390 and Buddy Jordan at .380.

NFL Football Players May Strike

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
There's nothing official, but the ingredients are beginning to stack up for a strike by National Football League players.

Officially, the players are saying nothing. That's through attorney Dan Shulman, counsel for the NFL Players Association.

Unofficially, there are numerous reports of strike talk by the players.

And time is running out. Rookies are scheduled to begin reporting for practice next week. Veterans will report later. Reporting dates vary for each club. The exhibition season is less than a month away.

The player representatives and an owners' group failed to come to an agreement at their super secret meeting in Detroit last weekend.

Art Modell, NFL president and owner of the Cleveland Browns, broke the long silence with a prepared statement in Cleveland Tuesday.

"We regret exceedingly that the players have rejected the results of the very fruitful negotiations we had in Detroit on Friday and Saturday," Modell's statement said. "We think, perhaps, the players may not have fully understood our position."

In Chicago, Shulman said: "We have agreed to no comments in the press and we intend, at least for the present, to adhere to that."

Asked if another date had been set for further negotiations, Shulman replied: "No comment."

An authoritative source in Atlanta said about 97 per cent of the players so far contacted were not satisfied with the owners' offer.

And in Knoxville, Tenn., the News Sentinel said NFL players have voted 377-17 not to report to preseason camps.

Among other things, the players are seeking improved pension benefits, $500 for each exhibition game, and a guaranteed minimum salary, such as exists in baseball.

No Slump In Sight for Tigers

A couple of American League managers have proclaimed in recent days that Detroit's rambling Tigers are due for a siege of misfortune any old day now.

Don't hold your breath. The Tigers are giving anything but an indication of a summer slump.

Willie Horton's first-inning single Tuesday night delivered a pair of runs that helped the Tigers to a 3-1 conquest of California—their seventh in eight games.

And, Detroit's lead was widened to 8½ games over Cleveland when the Indians were victimized 6-0 by Minnesota.

Boston came from behind to nip Oakland 4-3 in the only other league game. Rain postponed the New York at Washington and Chicago at Baltimore games.

In the National League, Chicago whipped Philadelphia 5-3, Pittsburgh edged New York 2-1, Houston stopped Cincinnati 2-0, San Francisco defeated Atlanta 5-0 and St. Louis nipped Los Angeles 5-3.

Although the Tigers continue to make the race for first a home affair, a big logjam is developing for the runner-up spot. Only four games separate the Indians from the seventh-place Red Sox.

Tiger right-hander Earl Wilson picked up his sixth victory in 11 decisions but had to constantly pitch out of trouble.

Horton staked him to the early lead after Jim Northrup doubled and Norm Cash walked, then both advanced on a wild pitch.

Rookie Tom Matchick's first homer accounted for Detroit's other run in the seventh.

California's Jim Fregosi ran his hitting streak to 12 games with a solo homer in the eighth, his seventh of the year.

Minnesota's Jim Kaat blanked the Indians despite giving up seven hits. The Twins put it out of doubt in the fourth when Jack Hernandez doubled in two runs and Cesar Tovar and Jim Holt each singled in one.

Frank Quilici's acrobatic flip accounted for a run in the fifth, and Ted Uhlaender tripled for another tally in the ninth.

Ken Harrelson's two-run double in the eighth rescued Boston after the Athletics had taken a 3-2 lead.

U.S. Netters Woman Scores Out After British Title as Baseball Coach

By GEOFFREY MILLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Arthur Ashe and Clark Graebner U.S. Davis Cup stars with the booming services, set out today to try to save the All-England Club $4,320.

That is what would happen if the two Americans defeated their Australian professional opponents to reach the final of the first Open Wimbledon Tennis Tournament.

Ashe, of Richmond, Va., faced Rod Laver, the Wimbledon champion of 1961 and 1962. Graebner, of New York City, had to play Tony Roche.

There are prizes at stake of $4,800 for the winner and $3,120 for the runner-up. But Ashe and Graebner, as amateurs, are competing for expenses only and can accept the gift vouchers worth $240.

If Laver and Roche lose in the semifinals, they will pick up only $1,800 each. The unclaimed prize money would then go back into the pot.

The success of the amateurs is one reason why officials are happy over the outcome of the first Open Wimbledon Tournament. They've been saved plenty of money by the success of amateurs over pros.

Ashe helped the Wimbledon Kitty Tuesday by knocking out Tom Okker of The Netherlands 7-9, 9-7, 9-7, 6-2 in the quarter-finals. Okker ranks as an amateur and plays on his country's Davis Cup team, but was competing here for prize money with the approval of the Dutch Tennis Federation. As a losing quarter-finalist, he won only $960.

Graebner, piling up the points with his big service, hammered amateur Ray Moore of South Africa 6-2, 6-0, 9-7. Both were unseeded.

Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., the defending champion, faced an old rival in Mrs. Lesley Turner Bowry of Australia in the women's quarter-finals.

The rest of the women's quarter-finalists lined up like this: Mrs. Margaret Smith Court, Australia vs. Judy Tegart, Australia; Nancy Richey, San Angelo, Tex., vs. Maria Bueno, Brazil; Mrs. Ann Jones, professional, Britain, vs. Francoise Durr, professional, France.

A year ago, Damascus, Dr. Fager and Buckpasser met in what was called The Race of Years, the $100,000 Woodward Stakes. Damascus won by 10 lengths over Buckpasser and 10½ lengths over Dr. Fager in 2:00 3-5 for the 1¼ miles.

Dr. Fager had set a blazing pace of 1:09 1-5 for the first six furlongs and 1:35 1-5 for the mile.

Damascus, owned by Mrs. Edith Bancroft, went on to become Horse of the Year. He has been assigned top weight of 133 pounds for the 1¼ miles of the Suburban to 132 for William McKnight's Dr. Fager and 125 for Mrs. Frances Center's In Reality.

Damascus, Dr. Fager and In Reality each have won stakes this year as 4-year-olds and are regarded as the tops in the handicap division.

The trio is expected to dominate the Suburban in which Amerigo Lady, a 4-year-old filly from the Rokeby Stable, also is likely to start. She has been assigned 110 pounds and will try to become the first of her sex to win the Suburban since Busanda in 1951.

It will be the third time Damascus and Dr. Fager have met. Dr. Fager won the first time, the Gotham Mile, with Damascus turning the tables in the Woodward.

Two Shreveport pitchers with poor records, Jay Carden (5-7) and Don Spain (4-8), stopped the Memphis hitters.

El Paso beat San Antonio 13-7 and Amarillo defeated Albuquerque 9-6 in other Texas League action.

Player Is Benched by Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Minnesota Twins' Manager Cal Ermer benched Rod Carew, his regular second baseman, before a game against Cleveland Tuesday night and said:

"He hasn't been able to get going after getting out of the Army," Carew, recently finished a six-month tour of duty with the Army Reserves.

"Actually, it's been a series of things," Ermer said. "A couple of rainouts and two five-inning games haven't helped matters with him."

Asked if Carew was benched because of reports that he disappeared from the team hotel and showed up just before the game, Ermer said:

"He was there (for the game). That's all I can tell you."

Carew refused to discuss the incident.

South African Matched World 100 Dash Mark

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A South African who won't be able to compete in the Olympics, matched the listed world mark in the 100-meter dash—and wasn't satisfied.

And the fastest mile of the year was recorded, with four men under four minutes, as the highlights of a couple of major international track and field meets in Europe Tuesday.

Paul Nash of South Africa, fighting a mild headwind, tied the world record of 10 seconds flat in a meet at Zurich, Switzerland. Ron Jones of Britain was second in 10.4 and Hansruedi Wildmer third in 10.5.

Nash, who won't be able to compete in the Olympics because of the South African ban, has been clocked in 10 flat several times. Three Americans, Charlie Greene, Ronnie Ray Smith and Jim Hines, were timed in 9.9 seconds at Sacramento, Calif., June 21.

"The headwind did not bother me very much," Nash said. "But I wished I had stronger men running against me perhaps some of the Americans. That might have brought a world record."

Nash also won the 200 meters in 20.1, running on a synthetic track, similar to the surface that will be used in the Olympics at Mexico City.

Vera Nikolic of Yugoslavia won the women's 800 meters in 2:02.2, the world's best time this season, while a French relay team won the men's 400-meter relay in 39 seconds flat, just four-tenths of a second off the listed record.

In Stockholm, Sweden, Bodo Tuemmler of West Germany recorded the fastest mile of the year, 3:54.7. He was followed by Andre de Herdtoghe of Belgium, 3:56; Werner Gosewinkel of West Germany, 3:59.1; and Alberto Esteban of Spain, 3:59.2m.

Wilson Kipsrui of Kenya won the 1,000-meter relay in 2:21.6n but Russians dominated the rest of the meet.

Among the Russian winners were Valeri Skvortsov, high jump, 7-1½; Anatoly Kuryan, 3,000-meter steeplechase, 8:33; Janis Luts, javelin, 285.4½; and Victor Saneev, triple jump, 54-11½.

The Detroit River is known as the "Dardanelles of the New World."

Ray's Lawyers
Are Planning to Appeal

LONDON (AP) — James Earl Ray's British lawyers today began preparing his appeal against Chief Magistrate Frank Milton's ruling that he should be extradited to the United States for trial on a charge of murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Milton on Tuesday rejected the argument by Roger Frisby, Ray's British attorney, that the killing of the Negro civil rights leader was a political crime and therefore not subject to extradition.

Frisby planned to enlarge this argument in his appeal to the High Court. Ray remained under close guard in London's Wandsworth jail. The appeal will delay his return to the United States until late this month, at the least.

Ray's court-appointed attorneys have 15 days from Tuesday to file their appeal. They were expected to take advantage of almost all this period.

The court then may take several days to schedule a hearing and to hold it.

Ray could appeal another adverse decision on a point of law to the House of Lords, Britain's highest court, but only if either the High Court or the Law Lords agreed to accept it.

GOPs Fighting

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — Ten members of the Conway County Republican Committee have taken their battle to get on the primary election ballot to the courts.

The ten filed a suit in Chancery Court Tuesday against John Oliger, chairman of the committee, and Mrs. Virginia Bryant, secretary of the committee.

The suit contends that the plaintiffs should be placed on the ballot and asks for a restraining order.

The committee refused to recognize the plaintiffs as candidates Friday night on the grounds that their filings was improper. Their $20 filing fees were returned.

Plaintiffs are Mrs. Gene Wirges, wife of the former editor of the Morrilton Democrat, Jacob Van Marion, Irene York, Carroll Tilley, Garland E. Stacks, Dwight Watts, Floyd Ray Trafford, Donald J. Wright, W. A. Gray and E. J. Powell.

Johnson told a statewide television audience that his philosophies clashed violently with those espoused by Fulbright, one of the Senate's leading "doves."

"His statements and voting record in the U.S. Senate during the past 24 years have given aid and comfort to the hopes and ambitions of Communist leaders throughout the world," Johnson said.

Johnson, one of three Democrats seeking Fulbright's seat, said the junior Senator's proposal to stop bombing North Vietnam and set up a coalition government in South Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — A policeman has told Senate probers that a Presbyterian minister lied under oath when he testified he wasn't asked to turn over to Chicago police a gang arsenal stored in his church.

"But somebody here is deliberately, willfully perjuring themselves before this subcommittee," he added. "And I hope the guilty person will have to face the bar of justice and get what he deserves."

You See Dentist Twice a Year Why Not Have Your Mind Checked Too

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — If you see your dentist twice a year, don't you think you ought to have your mind checked at least that often, too?

After all, if you lose a tooth, you can always buy a new one, but if the old brain loses some of its marbles, it's hard to stay in the game.

We're all so busy, busy, busy, however, that it is difficult for us to find time to get all the thorough, periodic, professional checkups we need.

So, for the prisoners of hurry and worry, here's an alternative — an easy, self-help way of solving that burning question of our times, "Am I normal and — if so — how normal."

It won't take long. Sit down and write yes-or-no answers to the following simple questions:

Do you lose your head when those around you are losing theirs — and blaming it on you?

Are you getting tired of people who seem to come to dinners and parties at your house three times as often as you find yourself attending dinners and parties at their homes?

Although the Air Force version of this plane (the F111A) appears to be satisfactory, said Chairman LT. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., of the House committee, "It is obvious that the attempt at commonality between the Air Force and Navy versions has failed."

"We are now looking to a new lighter aircraft that will have the capability the Navy needs," Rivers said. "It is presently designated the VFX-1."

The chief complaint of Navy brass has been that the plane is too heavy for aircraft carrier use.

former Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara fought for the common basic plane, originally known as the TFX, over strong opposition from military officials. He said the common use could save $1 billion in development costs.

The Defense Department had asked $425 million for eight production versions of the Navy F111B and 60 Phoenix missiles.

The House committee approved $170 million for development of the VFX-1, including $100 million originally intended for the F111B. The Senate also approved $170 million for the VFX-1.

Air Force F111A fighter-bombers have already been used in Vietnam but have flown no announced combat missions since the last of three crashes. The Air Force claims the planes have not been grounded.

The House committee cut $748 million from the $22 million authorization requested by the Pentagon.

No Plans Yet to Relocate Tactical Group

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Television Station KATV, quoting a "source close to the Pentagon," said Tuesday that there are no plans at present to relocate the 189th Tactical Reconnaissance Group as a whole.

The group was put on active duty last January.

KATV reported, however, that the source said "members of the 189th, and groups of its members, have been assigned, are being assigned, and will be assigned to help meet the requirements of the Air Force at home and abroad."

Col. Drew Holbrook, commander of the 189th, was not available for comment.

A spokesman said the group has 400 to 700 members.

One official at Little Rock Air Force Base, where the 189th has been training, said "Troop movements are classified information."

The station said it believed some of the unit's members had been sent to the Far East.

North Korea's capture of the USS Pueblo sparked the Jan. 26 activation of the 189th.

F111 Plane
Is Dealt a Death Blow

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy version of the controversial swing-wing F111 jet fighter-bomber has been all but junked by Congress in favor of a lighter, more maneuverable plane.

The House Armed Services Committee—approving a $21-billion defense procurement bill Tuesday—agreed to the Senate's cut of all current funds for the plane, the F111B. The full House is virtually certain to concur.

"Although the Air Force version of this plane (the F111A) appears to be satisfactory," said Chairman LT. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., of the House committee, "It is obvious that the attempt at commonality between the Air Force and Navy versions has failed."

"We are now looking to a new lighter aircraft that will have the capability the Navy needs," Rivers said. "It is presently designated the VFX-1."

The chief complaint of Navy brass has been that the plane is too heavy for aircraft carrier use.

former Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara fought for the common basic plane, originally known as the TFX, over strong opposition from military officials. He said the common use could save $1 billion in development costs.

The Defense Department had asked $425 million for eight production versions of the Navy F111B and 60 Phoenix missiles.

The House committee approved $170 million for development of the VFX-1, including $100 million originally intended for the F111B. The Senate also approved $170 million for the VFX-1.

Air Force F111A fighter-bombers have already been used in Vietnam but have flown no announced combat missions since the last of three crashes. The Air Force claims the planes have not been grounded.

The House committee cut $748 million from the $22 million authorization requested by the Pentagon.

No Plans Yet to Relocate Tactical Group

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Television Station KATV, quoting a "source close to the Pentagon," said Tuesday that there are no plans at present to relocate the 189th Tactical Reconnaissance Group as a whole.

The group was put on active duty last January.

KATV reported, however, that the source said "members of the 189th, and groups of its members, have been assigned, are being assigned, and will be assigned to help meet the requirements of the Air Force at home and abroad."

Col. Drew Holbrook, commander of the 189th, was not available for comment.

A spokesman said the group has 400 to 700 members.

One official at Little Rock Air Force Base, where the 189th has been training, said "Troop movements are classified information."

The station said it believed some of the unit's members had been sent to the Far East.

North Korea's capture of the USS Pueblo sparked the Jan. 26 activation of the 189th.

Bombers in Largest Raid
in Months

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. fighter-bombers pounded North Vietnam's southern panhandle Tuesday with the largest number of raids in two months while the big B53 strategic bombers kept up the heaviest saturation pounding given the demilitarized zone area in the war.

Allied ground troops also were busy below the northern frontier and reported they killed 155 of the enemy in clashes in South Vietnam's northernmost provinces.

Along with the record air activity, U.S. headquarters announced the loss of two Air Force fighter-bombers over North Vietnam and a light Army reconnaissance plane and a big Marine helicopter over South Vietnam.

One of the pilots shot down in North Vietnam, Lt. Col. Jack Modica, 44, of Birmingham, Ala., spent 23 hours in the jungle and was pulled to safety by a "Jolly Green Giant" helicopter as enemy troops were closing in on him.

The second fighter-bomber was shot down during the search for Modica and its pilot is missing. It was the 860th American plane that the U.S. command has reported lost in the North.

The Viet Cong shot down the Marine helicopter, killing all four crewmen, and also killed all nine men in a Marine patrol the helicopter had set down to check out a mountain trail 24 miles northwest of Da Nang. It was the 778th U.S. helicopter lost in combat in South Vietnam.

Candidate Is Against Gun Laws

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Marion Crank, one of six contenders for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said Tuesday that gun control legislation which requires registration or licensing of firearms "sets a dangerous precedent to our constitutional rights to bear arms."

Crank said such legislation is in "direct conflict with the manner of living Americans are used to."

"I think it is time we stopped penalizing law-abiding citizens in our efforts to curb crime, and begin concentrating our legislation on criminals, instead," he said. "If more legislation is needed in the area of firearms, I think we should take a closer look into the possibility of increasing penalties against criminals who are involved in crimes aided by firearms."

"Particularly in the state of Arkansas, a large percentage of our population is composed of sportsmen whose sole recreation is hunting," Crank said.

He also said he felt that laws which are sparked by "mass hysteria" are usually bad or inadequate.

Insurance
Firms Oppose
Rate Cuts

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The president of Arkansas' largest underwriter of credit insurance policies testified Tuesday that eastern companies would control "the business" if proposed rate reductions are approved.

E. M. Arnold of Little Rock, president of the Union Life Insurance Co., made the statement at a hearing on the rate reductions.

State Insurance Commissioner Allan W. Horne has proposed that credit life insurance coverage for a 12-month period be reduced from $1 per $100 of initial insured indebtedness to the rate of 62 cents per year per $100 of insured indebtedness.

The proposed regulations would set top rates allowable for level term insurance at $1.15 per $100. A ceiling of 96 cents per $1,000 of outstanding balances would be set on credit life policies in which monthly premiums are based on the outstanding loan balance.

Hopes Release of 3
GIs by Cong to Mean
Peace Talks Progress

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

PARIS (AP) — Ambassador W. Averell Harriman said today he hopes that North Vietnam's decision to release three American prisoners is a "straw in the wind" pointing toward progress in the peace negotiations.

Going into the 11th session of his talks with North Vietnamese Ambassador Nguyen Thuy, Harriman told newsmen "naturally we would be very much gratified" if Hanoi carries out its broadcast that it would free three American fliers shot down in North Vietnam.

Harriman said his only information on the matter was what the broadcast said.

"We like to think that perhaps it's a straw in the wind," he said. "You remember Secretary of Defense (Clark M.) Clifford spoke of straws in the wind as related to progress in these talks."

Clifford said two weeks ago he saw some straws and hints of evidence of progress in the talks.

Harriman returned to the conference table for a new attempt to get North Vietnam to de-escalate the war in Southeast Asia, but he faced another rejection.

On the eve of the weekly meeting, the official North Vietnamese newspaper Nhan Dan said that North Vietnam is "resolutely and unalterably determined to reject the U.S. demand."

Harriman has told Thuy repeatedly that Hanoi must reduce its war effort before President Johnson will meet North Vietnam's demand that he end all bombing of the North. The North Vietnamese have repeatedly turned down such "reciprocity."

Today's meeting was the 11th since the talks began May 13. Harriman returned Monday night from a trip to the United States which included consultations with President Johnson and other officials. The U.S. negotiator said he hoped the North Vietnamese were "ready to get down to serious discussions."

Pleads Innocent to Kidnaping

MALVERN, Ark. (AP) — Charles Moore of Malvern, the object of a 12-hour search last week, pleaded innocent Tuesday to a charge of kidnaping Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Kraiz of Rolla.

Moore, about 27, was captured Thursday in a wooded area near Malvern.

Kraiz told authorities that he and his wife had picked up a man to give him a ride home. He said they were abducted at gunpoint and that he was tied and left on the road. He said his wife was later freed and told him she had been raped.

Inflation
Cities as Big
U.S. Problem

MARIANNA, Ark. (AP) — Clyde Andrews of Marianna, one of eight Democratic candidates for Congress from the First Congressional District, said Tuesday night that inflation is the major domestic problem in the United States.

Andrews blamed the inflation on the "irresponsible fiscal policies of the federal government."

Andrews also told the West Memphis Jaycees that the American farmers could reduce the cost of production through research. He said the high cost of production was keeping the nation's farmers from being able to compete profitably in the free world market.

Hobbs' statement was prompted by an Associated Press story which said Massi would be released from prison because of a suspension of his sentence.

Detained
Troop Plane
in Japan

By BOB POOS

TOKYO (AP) — The U.S. airliner carrying 214 Vietnam-bound troops that was held for two days by the Soviet Union flew to Tokyo today and the pilot denied that he violated Soviet air space.

"I did not stray over Russian territory," said Capt. Joseph Tosolini of Bethany, Conn. He said he had flown the same route from Tacoma, Wash. to Japan many times.

Tosolini said he argued with the Russians over the content of a letter that he signed indicating the plane's position. He said he was made to sign the letter as a condition for the release of the plane and its passengers.

Navigator Larry Guernon said his calculations showed the chartered four-engine jet was well outside the line defining Soviet air space off the Kurile Islands when it was intercepted by Russian MiGs Monday and forced to land on the island of Iturup north of Japan.

The Soviet Union said the plane violated Soviet air space and the U.S. Federal Aviation Administration concluded that Soviet air space was violated because the plane's crew made a navigational error. The State Department apologized, the Soviet government released the plane with unexpected swiftness.

Tosolini, flanked at a news conference by his 17-member crew that included nine stewards, said he signed a letter as a condition for his release. He said corrections in the letter indicate the Soviets had perhaps erred in fixing the plane's position.

The first letter the Russians wrote for Tosolini to sign admitting he had violated Soviet air space listed the time between his plane's interception by Soviet MiGs to the time it landed at the Soviet base at "something like 35 minutes," Tosolini said.

The veteran pilot said he did not sign the first letter. "Then," he continued, "They prepared a second letter in which the time was changed to something like 53 minutes," he said. He indicated other changes were also made.
